PROJECTS

CS Nexus React LINK	Jan 2026 - Feb 2026
- Engineered an interactive, open-source learning platform for computer science utilizing React, establishing a community-driven, Wikipedia-style knowledge repository for accessible education. - Designed a modular and responsive frontend architecture with optimized component rendering, enhancing codebase maintainability and ensuring seamless user navigation across complex technical content. - Implemented a streamlined continuous deployment pipeline integrating Git, GitHub, and Vercel, enabling automated live builds, rapid iteration, and high availability for end-users.
CGPA Calculator C++ GITHUB	Sep 2025 - Dec 2025
- Developed a dynamic academic tracking application using React, implementing efficient state management to instantly process and calculate real-time SGPA and CGPA metrics based on customizable credit systems. - Designed an intuitive and responsive user interface with robust form validation, ensuring accurate grade entry and delivering a streamlined experience for students tracking their academic progress. - Integrated persistent local storage to securely retain semester-wise data across user sessions, and deployed the optimized application via Vercel to ensure high availability and rapid load times.

TRAINING

Computer Programming in C- iamneo Certificate	Jan 2025 -May 2025
- Completed a rigorous 150-hour Computer Programming course through Neo Colab in association with Lovely Professional University, building a strong foundation in core software development principles. - Demonstrated technical excellence and consistent commitment over a four-month intensive training period, enhancing problem-solving capabilities and programming proficiency. - Earned a Certificate of Appreciation recognizing continuous learning and skill development, validating a dedication to continuous technical improvement.

CERTIFICATES

• Cybersecurity -IBM Certificate	Mar 2024
• Cloud Computing 101 -AWS Certificate	Dec 2025
• Fundamentals of Machine Learning -Saylor Academy Certificate	Sep 2025
